In 2004 one of the largest earthquakes ever happened off the coast of Indonesia, causing a tsunami that destroyed towns around the Indian Ocean. About 228,000 people were killed as a result of the 9.1 earthquake and huge waves that crashed into coastlines. Waves traveled at speeds of up to 800 kilometers per hour and reached Chile, Mexico, and the Arctic. The waves knocked down trees hundreds of meters inland, knocked over huge ships, and threw boats into trees. The estimated damage was just under $10 billion. By 2015, many coastal towns and villages have rebuilt their communities and lives.
